Terrorist Threat

Islamic extremists have issued a threat against four-year-old Prince George of Cambridge.

The extremists posted a picture of the future king on the encrypted app Telegram. The threat said, "Even the royal family will not be left alone."

Along with the threat was the address for Prince George's school and the comment "School starts early" next to a picture of the future king.

The terrorists included words from a war song, "When war comes with the melody of bullets, we descend on disbelief, desiring retaliation."

After this disturbing news, the security at Prince George's school is on high alert for the future king's safety.

Discussion Questions

- Talk about the threat these terrorists have made against Prince George. What do the terrorists want to happen? What do you think the words "we descend on disbelief" mean?
- Read the familiar Bible story of the three men in the fiery furnace (Daniel 3). How was King Nebuchadnezzar like a modern-day terrorist? What did he want the three men to do? How did he punish them?
- God prevailed over King Nebuchadnezzar. How do you know He will also prevail over ISIS? What will God's victory over ISIS look like?
- Talk about your fears about ISIS. What would you like God to do in this situation?
