

High School*November 19, 2017

Bringing the Sheep Home

Can you imagine finding a flock of sheep in your kitchen? That's exactly what happened to farmer Rosalyn Edwards.

Her overzealous Border collie puppy, Rocky, guided a flock of nine sheep from their pen—right into her kitchen.

Mrs. Edwards, 40, said, "My son and husband had gone out into the field, and they left the gate open. Our dog, Rocky, got the sheep out and led them to the house.

"I thought it was funny at the time, but then there was quite a lot of wee, poo, and mud everywhere. It took me a little while to clean it all up."

Mrs. Edwards added, "Rocky did look quite pleased with himself, but he's going to need a lot more training."

Discussion Questions

- This Border collie wanted to lead sheep. The sheep needed a leader. This sounds like a great plan. What went wrong?
- Talk about a person who is a leader in our world today. How do people follow him or her? To where does this person lead people?
- God led His people to the Promised Land. What was waiting for them there?
- What leads you to Jesus? How is this the best place to be?
- Jesus is called the Good Shepherd. What kind of a Shepherd is He? Share how you see Jesus' leadership in your own life.